

Marketing & Media Campaigns: Sporting Facilities

Our Ethos

We believe that communication is most effective when it is delivered with honesty and integrity. We partner with our clients to ensure our communication strategies are best for their business and their customers.

Our Capabilities

Miller & Miller Strategic Communications Consultants specialise in providing comprehensive marketing and media campaigns for your gym, martial arts facility or sporting academy.

Marketing

Sporting academies have specialised marketing and media needs, and Miller & Miller Strategic Communication Consultants are experienced in analysing those needs, and forming a campaign that is unique and relevant to your academy.

We will work closely with you to identify and then reach your target demographic through a variety of means, including:

- Brand development
- Direct marketing
- E-marketing
- Sponsorship deals
- Advertising
- Newsletters
- Social media
- Open days
- Holiday camps.

Media

Raising the profile of your academy is more than just marketing, often the most effective means of reaching our intended audience is through an ongoing media campaign.

Miller & Miller Strategic Communications Consultants will work closely with you to formulate a targeted media campaign, including writing press releases for local and national media, liaising with journalists, writing features for placement in trade magazines and organising photo shoots.

We know that an effective marketing and media campaign is the most powerful way to grow your academy.

We also offer:

- Tender Development
- Public Relations
- Internal Communications
- Website and Intranet Development
- Copywriting
- Publishing Project Management
- Production of Sales Materials.

“Miller & Miller understood our unique needs and worked with us to boost our membership numbers by 50% through an individualised, targeted media and marketing campaign.”

– Dylan Resnekov, VT-1 Gym
